

SAW HIS WIFE MARRY ANOTHER

Paoli Comeniti Says He Was Tricked by a Friend.

WANTS HIS CAMILLA BACK.

Joke He Did Not Appreciate Until the Woman Left Him.

Tricked into witnessing the marriage of his own wife to another man is the charge made by Paoli Comeniti, of 83 Sackett street, Brooklyn, maker against his former friend and neighbor, Giuseppe Napoleone.

Eight months ago Paoli married Camilla, described as possessing all the beauties generally ascribed to daughters of sunny Italy. Giuseppe, it is charged, coveted his neighbor's wife from the first time her charms caught his eye, and this is the way he won her:

On Dec. 7 he proposed that he and Paoli and his wife should have an impromptu jollification, just to get in trim for the approaching holidays. Paoli consented, and the course of the day the trio visited the Borough Hall, where he was the witness of a ceremony which was unintelligible to him, but was described to him as a joke. He subsequently discovered that the joke was a wedding with his own wife as the blushing bride.

The point of the joke was brought home to him when Camilla left him to live with Giuseppe, at 81 Sackett street. He had his wife brought before Magistrate Shreve this morning, and with the aid of an interpreter an effort was made to straighten out the tangle, but little progress was made. Giuseppe was not in court.

The magistrate suggested a warrant for the woman's arrest, but Paoli demurred.

"We want the girl; that's all," said the husband in about all the English he knows.

Camilla was looked up and Paoli went out for advice, and there the matter rests.

FOR SEWARD PARK PLANS.

Public Hearing Before the Aldermen Called for To-Morrow.

The City Record to-day contains the official announcement of a public hearing on the plans for Seward Park in the Aldermanic Chamber at 2 P. M. to-morrow.

Park Commissioners and all others are invited to attend. The Evening World's contention that the playground should be made far larger than the Park Commissioners intend to make it, will be fully discussed.

GRIEVED LONG; STRANGELY DEAD

Family Deny that Photographer Naegeli Shot Himself.

There is a cloud of mystery about the death of Albert Naegeli in the Post Graduate Hospital yesterday from a shot wound in the head.

It is said, on the one hand, that he killed himself in deep grief over the death of his favorite daughter, Helene. The son, Albert, Jr., denies this flatly, and in explanation declares that his father was cleaning a revolver, which he exploded accidentally.

It is known that the man had brooded over his loss for three months past, and that this had brought him to the verge of nervous prostration.

The daughter's death was a peculiarly sad one. She had suffered for years with a spinal affliction, and for a long time before the end lingered in the very shadow of death.

On Tuesday, just before midnight, Naegeli was taken to the hospital, dying from the wound in his head. The police were not notified of the circumstances.

To-day the Sergeant at the Fifth street station appeared indifferent. He said he had heard in the morning of the unofficial way that it was an accident.

Naegeli was rich. He owned, besides the house in which he lived, others in West Eighty-fourth and Eighty-third streets, and had much property in the Naegeli estate, held in trust for his three minor children. There are six children altogether.

ODD DEATH OF MAN IN CELL.

Bangs Taken to New Haven on Forgery Charges.

(Special to The Evening World.)

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 17.—Ferdinand J. Bangs, an accused bank forger brought here from Melford, Mass., at 11 o'clock last night by Detective Donnelly, was found dead in his cell at Police Headquarters this morning.

Some mystery surrounds the case, which may prove one of suicide, though the night sergeant states the man was carefully watched before he was locked up.

When he reached here Bangs, to all appearances, was in good health. Pending full medical examination the cause of death is given by the police as "heart failure."

Bangs was arrested on two charges of bank forgery.

Bank Cashier Shot Himself.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 17.—Jacob F. Harpster, the cashier of the Waltham Bank, committed suicide at his home in this city today. He was shot in his chest.

Saw Overturned Snow.

Pilot Bert Washington, No. 5, reports Jan. 16 at noon four miles S. E. by S. of the Sandy Hook lightship, he passed a snow bottom-up.

From all parts of the United States.

This, together with the fact that Dr. Greene's Nervura is the great medical discovery of the most successful phy-siatrist in the cure of nervous and chronic complaints, who can be consulted by the sick and suffering absolutely free of charge, either by personal call or by letter, certainly offers the means of a sure and positive cure to everybody.

Most Mineral Waters on the market to-day are made from so-called Vichy-salts, Selters-salts, etc.

You cannot evaporate a Mineral Water and dissolve the entire residuum.

Mineral pills and salts are therefore in no sense representatives of the natural water.
